

MARCO500 - JACQUELINE CHIABAY

“COUROS E TRAMAS” Studio, established for over 30 years, has been run by the craftswoman, designer and specialized consultant in Project and Hand Crafts Design Jacqueline Chiabay. This project is made up of women, craftswomen, housewives and rural producers in the state of Espírito Santo, Brazil, who find an alternative job and earn a living through hand work.

The main raw material used is goat leather waste, which comes from the Brazilian clothing industries that work with such material. Linen is also used. The inspiration and design come from the sustainability of the reuse of this material and the essence of the hand arts and craft, where several techniques are used that highlight hand work, providing opportunities for a great number of women and people who are involved. Production leftovers booster the Novas Marias Project, with the development and production of exclusive techniques and pieces that are transformed in an occupation, providing salaries for female prisoners. The pieces made of wood are manufactured by Marcenaria Jequitibá Project, constituted by local male prisoners. The designer’s professional career has been consolidated with her participation in important events such as the MoMA Brazil Destination in 2009, in New York, the Milan Exhibit in 2016, Essentially Diverse Brazil, in Milan, and Tramares/Casa Brasil Spain Exhibition, in Madrid, in 2019.
